

Closing the Execution Gap

4 WAYS TO HELP YOUR EMPLOYEES “GET IT DONE” EVERY DAY

These are challenging times that test the competence and endurance of even the best business owners. Come and join a special information session with other forward thinkers in our community.

The key to surviving and thriving in tough times is flawless execution. Even in difficult conditions your company really can keep the promises you make - but first you must create a culture of execution.

A culture of execution begins with the realization that developing plans and strategic initiatives is just the starting point. It also requires adopting the mindset that a highly skilled and engaged work force will not ensure effective execution. Many leaders have a blind spot in this area. Either they believe that their job is setting the direction, and execution is the responsibility of lower-level managers, or they assume that if they clearly communicate an exciting vision of the future to an engaged work force, everything else will fall into place.

Tim Maloney
Managing Director
Newport Group

Shaping an Effective Future

- ◆ Understanding the questions before searching for answers
- ◆ Increase productivity: Slowing down to Speed up
- ◆ Superior team dynamics
- ◆ Coming Opportunities from today's Demographics
- ◆ How to objectively evaluate your own business

Tim Maloney, author, speaker and business advisor, is Managing Director and Founder of Newport Group Inc. Since 1990, under Tim's leadership, Newport has designed and coordinated business improvement projects for owners of private businesses internationally and throughout Canada, seeking to de-fine and execute profit objectives through an aligned and engaged workforce management teams.

Commit to shaping your future, today. You will receive insights for your business and personal life; adding to your existing thinking. We assure you will walk out with new solutions and change how you can use that knowledge for greater profitability.

Insights that Work, New Perspectives, Network with Peers

Thursday, October 20 2016

7:30am - 9:00am

Join us for complimentary breakfast

Register for this event today:

At 226 210 0029

Or briefings@newportgroup.ca

Brought to you by

Chamber of Commerce

300 South Edgeware Road

St. Thomas, ON

Main Board Room

